

GDPR Privacy Policy

The Glasgow Agricultural Society is a not-for-profit organisation that organises and stages The National Stallion Show.

We respect your privacy and are committed to maintaining the security of your personal data. This policy outlines how and why we collect and use personal data. We want to ensure you are informed and in control of your data.

What personal data do we hold?

The Society's Database comprises of the following details: -

- Name
- Postal address
- Contact telephone number
- Contact email

How will we use this personal data?

We use this data to communicate with you about Show matters.

How did we collect this personal data?

- You provided it to us when you either: -
 - joined as a member
 - became a volunteer
 - agreed to sponsor the Show
 - applied for a trade pitch on the Show field
 - entered an exhibit in one of the Sections
 - offered to support the Show

With whom will we share this data?

We will NOT sell, distribute or lease your personal data to third parties. Committee members may also use this data to communicate with you about Show matters.

Committee members abide by the Glasgow Agricultural Society data protection policies and your data will be treated confidentially.

Your right to withdraw consent

We will only use your personal data with your permission. You may withdraw that consent at any time. If you no longer wish to support the Show or be involved in any way, please contact Secretary by email at secretary@thenationalstallionshow.com

Sensitive personal data

In exceptional circumstances sensitive personal health data may be collected as part of any accident reporting on the show field. This information may be shared with our insurance company in line with our legal and insurance obligations. If sensitive personal information is collected, we will take extra care to ensure privacy rights are protected. Such data would only be retained for as long as the law required.

Notification of changes to this Privacy Policy

The Glasgow Agricultural Society reserve the right to amend this Privacy Policy at any time. Notice of any change will be posted on this website and will be deemed effective upon publication.